Description

Price ticket holder with spring wobbler clamp and clip

Looking for an eye-catching wobbler for point of sale? This visual merchandising wobbler attracts attention in many retail and office environments.

The funky wobbler POP clip comprises a spring-loaded clamp which will attach to many display products or merchandising containers, linked to a card gripper to hold small point of sale signs. The lower clamp and top clip are joined by a stainless steel wire incorporating a coiled spring at the mid point to create visual appeal and movement.

- This display clip can also be used for applications not related to POP (Point of Purchase) displays such as attaching a memo or postcard to the top of a computer monitor.
- In order to remain upright the card needs to be small and light – a postcard (6 gm) is about the limit. The clamp opens up to 1" (2.5cm) and will also work on rails or tubes.
- A great looking POS fastener for displaying small promotional messages.

Additional Information

More Information	The Wobbler POP clip has two knuckle joints so the point of sale sign can be displayed at the optimum angle relative to the product on display. The knuckles will remain static (i.e. won't slip) if the showcard is quite small and light. If in doubt we suggest you purchase a sample for evaluation before ordering your POS material. Overall length of this combo unit is 240mm (approx 9"). When the clear plastic grippers and wire are aligned (i.e. straight) the bottom of the showcard will be 200mm (8") above the top of the attachment point.
